Allan continued his dominance shedding blood in the pursuit of speed, Russ has a off night after an altercation with a forest tank threw his mental preparation along with coping for much of the traffic from the excesses of others. John Rees the phantom of the circuit was steadily gaining ground with his new Orange Cobra washed down in fluids to cure sparking. John Tetley' Prancer' was having a few too many trips and slips but pulled the last two heats together and closed back up on the Phantom. Dave had the Daytona Cobra running on ragged edge but just when Prancer's lap total was looking closeable at 3laps the Tetmeister found another gear and the gap opened further each heat.
